This will be Kinder's fourth project with George Billis Gallery and second solo-exhibition at the New York gallery. This exhibition will run from December 12, 2017 - January 6, 2018. The opening reception will be held at the George Billis Gallery located at 525 West 26th Street between 10th and 11th avenues on Thursday, December 14th from 6 - 8 pm. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 - 6pm.

Steven Kinder (b. 1956, Queens, NY) was trained at Cooper Union and has been making drawings, paintings, and large-scale installation for over 40 years. His recent work advances his interest in various forms of dynamic tension and movement found in nature, specifically tidal bores, surges or whirlpools. In his new work, the artist further explores tension and balance between the intuitive, gestural mark and the intellectual organization of form. His 9 inch square drawing series, a format he has been using for years, have now become templates for his paintings. In the drawings Kinder works out how form and color can come together and break apart while maintaining a compositional integrity inside a small space.

Kinder's fascination with the possibilities of color and shape to express vibration, movement and the essence of life force, as well as a powerful communicator of humanity's sorrows, has historical precedence in the works of Wassily Kandinsky and his "triangle of humanity."

The George Billis Gallery marks its 20th year in the Chelsea Art district and its sister gallery is located in the burgeoning gallery district of Culver City in Los Angeles.
